CAMPUS POLICE SUPPORT RED RIBBON WEEK

In an effort to support the goals of Red Ribbon Week, the Central Texas College Police Department held demonstrations in front of the Student Center which allowed students, staff and faculty to feel the effects of levels of intoxication. Without really consuming alcoholic beverages, the Campus Police allowed volunteers to wear “Drunk Goggles” and walk a straight line or ride a tricycle through an obstacle course. The feeling of drunkenness was too much for some to handle saying the “Drunk Goggles” made them feel “funny”. The goggles were donated compliments of the Central Texas College Mental Health Services department. Each year schools around the globe participate in Red Ribbon Week and their goal is to promote a drug and alcohol free environment. Week long events were kicked off by the CTC Substance Abuse Resources Center.

WINTER SHOPPING SAFETY TIPS

During the holidays and all through winter folks become so wound up in the holiday spirit with shopping for family and friends that they sometimes forget to be safe when outdoors or while in crowded malls. Here are some tips on keeping safe during the winter holidays and always.

- Try to do your shopping with minimal cash on your person.
- Keep purchases out of view in your car, secure items in the trunk.
- Never leave your wallet or purse out in the open in your car.

- Park in well lit areas of the mall parking lot.
- Always lock your car and take your keys with you.
- Be aware of your surroundings.
